The mission of the Eastern Schools for the Deaf Athletic Association (ESDAA) is to provide all member schools and respective athletes with challenging tournament and championship meet competition. These competitions will center on good sportsmanship, ethical behavior, and integrity as advocated by the National Federation of State High School Association (NFHS).

There are four active athletic associations for schools for the Deaf in the United States. They are: Eastern, Mason-Dixon, Great Plains, and Western. The Eastern Schools for the Deaf Athletic Association (ESDAA) was one of the first to be organized. In 1927, Fred Moore, a teacher at the Marie H. Katzenbach School for the Deaf in New Jersey, organized the boy's basketball tournament. The ten participating schools in this first special event included: Kendall, Fanwood, Pennsylvania, American, New Jersey, St. Joseph's, Lexington, Virginia and Maryland. The Katzenbach School emerged as the champion of the tournament.

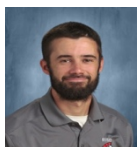

In 1961 the ESDAA boys' basketball tournament was split into two divisions. Division I included the school with large numbers of students and Division II, the schools with a smaller number of students. In 1977, the first ESDAA girls' basketball tournament was held for interested schools, hosted by Paul Barr and the Maryland School for the Deaf. Since that time, the tournament has grown in size, popularity and organization, and, in fact, there are now two divisions. The girls' tournament is now complete with competitions, trophies, All-Star selections and sportsmanship awards. Best of all, this special activity provides opportunities for members of the participating teams to interact with each other. Additionally, it encourages self-discipline, hard work, cooperative effort, good conduct and manners- skills that can be kept for a lifetime.

The ESDAA also conducts tournaments and championships in soccer (est. 2015), volleyball (est. 1981) since cheerleading (est. 1981) and boys/girls track and field (boys est. 1964/ girls est. 1978). Schools take turns "hosting" the various tournaments which provides a competitive platform for our students/athletes to compete and strive for the ultimate prize – the championship traveling trophy.

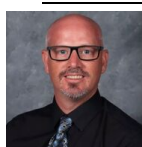

These competitions will center on good sportsmanship, ethical behavior and integrity as advocated by the National Federation of State High School Athletics Association.

Dear ESDAA teams and colleagues,

Welcome to Rhode Island! We are very excited to host this tournament with so many friends from near and far. Rhode Island is a beautiful state with enough hiking trails and ocean beaches to satisfy anyone. But your presence this weekend makes it even better for us! Fourteen of the Deaf community's best East Coast schools gathered together in one place to compete and make friends and to test the limits against yourselves... Bravo!

It has often been said that being challenged in life is inevitable, meaning that it can't be avoided because life, itself, is challenging. But being defeated? Now... that IS optional. You have something to do with that outcome. You can fight hard to prove to yourself that you do not give up no matter how hard the situation is.

Here in Rhode Island, you are rising to the challenge to give your best performance and you are testing yourself. Defeat is not in the picture, but hard work, perseverance and teamwork is!

We genuinely hope that you find this to be one of the more well-run tournaments that you participate in. We have been working hard to ensure this happens. My deepest thanks to Nathan Engel and his team for their planning and dedication to making this a premier event.

I really am so happy to have you here with us. I'll be cheering as you compete and persevere and have fun at the same time.

All my best,
Nancy Maguire Heath
Chief Rooster

To All ESDAA Boys and Girls Track & Field Championship Meet Participants and Spectators,

Welcome to the Rhode Island School for the Deaf, for the ESDAA 58th Annual Boys and 44th Annual Girls Championship Meet.

Track & Field is a beautiful sport in its simplicity. Everybody is training toward the same end goal – improving your time running over a certain distance individually or on a relay team, jumping and/or throwing a discus/shot put further and higher than you have ever before. Some of you are seasoned veterans polishing your skill/form while others just tried track and are learning those skills for the first time this year. These skills are only developed by hours and hours of hard work, motivation and determination. In the end, we hope to see a whole bunch of personal records being broken at this Championship Meet!

This is also a historical tournament. We have never had 14 ESDAA member schools participate at the Track & Field Championship Meet! All of our competing teams are coming here from 9 different states. With more than 280 student-athletes, coaches, chaperones, and drivers on campus – it is sure to be a busy weekend full of fun, meeting new people, and seeing hard work and determination in action competing against each other in an official meet!

I want to thank Sorenson Communications, RI Deaf Senior Citizens, USA Deaf Track & Field, ESDAA Athletic Directors, Head Track & Field Coaches, our school's Administration Team, and all of our community volunteers for their support to make this tournament possible.

This is Rhode Island's ninth time hosting this Tournament and fourth time on our campus. For some of you, it may be your first time stepping foot on campus – for others, you might have been here before. I sincerely hope that you come back home from this Tournament with fond memories of both our school track facilities, campus/buildings, and new friendships from the 2023 ESDAA Boys & Girls Track & Field Championship Meet!

Sincerely,
Nathan Engel
